

 THE GUIDE

 EDITORS' PICKS

TAKING THE STARCH OUT

Hong Kong-born artist Mung Lar Lam takes one of the most boring household chores — ironing — and turns it into an unlikely art form. Beginning Sunday, visitors can take in her origami-like ironings of various recycled fabrics. There will also be a video showing Mung hard at work with her appliance. The exhibition, titled “Ironings Performed by Mung Lar Lam,” will change several times throughout the run as the artist returns to re-iron select works. Sun. through Aug. 10, Craft and Folk Art Museum. $3-$5. (323) 937-4230; www.cafam.org

